PROJECT PROPOSAL

2026-02-20

Project Organizer: Student Leadership Council

Support: College of Engineering

Project Title: Digital Skills Bootcamp 2026

Lead Facilitator: Dr. Maria Santos

Rationale: With the rapid advancement of digital technologies, students need to develop practical technical skills to remain competitive in academic and professional environments. This bootcamp aims to bridge the gap between theoretical knowledge and real-world application by providing hands-on workshops in essential digital tools and emerging technologies.

Objectives: To enhance students' proficiency in productivity and collaboration tools

- To introduce basic coding and web development concepts
- To develop problem-solving skills through project-based learning
- To encourage innovation and teamwork among participants

Intended Learning Outcomes: Demonstrate basic proficiency in HTML, CSS, and introductory JavaScript

- Create a simple personal portfolio website
- Apply collaborative tools for project management
- Present a functional group project at the end of the bootcamp
